

From Grind Core to dirty fucking Metallic Crust 'n' Roll those boys evolved during twenty two years. You will hear music which wreck your balls and kick your arse. The storm is called

MALIGNANT TUMOUR

PRESS KIT

BIO: Band MALIGNANT TUMOUR start in fall of 1991 in town Ostrava, Czech republic, not long after iron curtain was tear down. Together with few other bands MALIGNANT TUMOUR was one of the first band who show extreme music in their country. Band went through many of line up changes and released many recordings on different formats in DIY scene all around the world. In 2003 whole band line up changed, except main brain of the band BILOS who is the only original member since band beginning, and style of music went to the direction of more metallic Crust 'n' Roll which is the music based on Rock 'n' Roll style, pushed to the extreme. MALIGNANT TUMOUR released five full lenght albums and tons of other recordings on many different underground labels all around the world. The latest album called OVERDOSE & OVERDRIVE was released by German underground metal label WAR ANTHEM RECORDS in spring 2013.

So, you get full speed thrash, catchy rock-n-roll, hellraiser lyrics about truck driving, warfare, sex, and death, with grainy vocals that sound like plate tectonics shifting, but with clear diction. Another great thing about Earthshaker is the vocalist's tone, alliteration, and diction. This is the best album from any Czech band in history. Before anyone gets angry, I'll mention that the band is not exactly Czech. The band is from the region around the city of Ostrava. They are very different than the czechs, really.

Is it possible to out-Motorhead the almighty Motorhead? Maybe not, but Czech prime-time nutters Malignant Tumour give it a damn good go. Having started out as a grindcore band many, many years ago their 4th full length sees them paying homage to Lemmy and Co. in the most reverential manner, whilst throwing in the usual healthy dose of crust punk for good measure.
